

AYMARAN

Arnold, Denise.

1986. Kinship as Cosmology: Potatoes as Offspring among the Aymara of Highland Bolivia. St. Andrews: Centre for Latin American Linguistic Studies, University of St. Andrews.

Arnold, Denise.

1988. Matrilineal Practice in a Patrilineal Setting: Rituals and Metaphors of Kinship in an Andean ayllu. Ph.D. dissertation. University College, London.

Belleza Castro, Neli.

1995. Vocabulario Jacaru-Castellano, Castellano-Jacaru (Aimara Tupino). Cusco, Perú: Centro de Estudios Regionales Andinos Bartolomé de las Casas.

Collins, Jane L.

1981. Kinship and Seasonal Migration among the Aymara of Southern Peru: Human Adaptation to Energy Scarcity. Ph.D. dissertation. University of Florida. 359 P.

Collins, Jane

1983. Translation Traditions and the Organization of Productive Activity: The Case of Aymara Affinal Kinship Terms In Bilingualism: Social Issues and Policy Implications, edited by Andrew W., Miracle Jr. Pp. 11-21. Athens: University of Georgia Press.

Mamani, Manuel M.

1999. Chacha-warmi paradigma e identidad matrimonial Aymara en la provincia de Parinacota. Chungara 31 (2): 307-317.

Pyle, Ransforth C.

1981. Aymara Kinship, Real and Spiritual. In The Aymara Language in Its Social and Cultural Contexts: A Collection of Essays on Aspects of Aymara Language and Culture, edited by M. J. Hardman. Pp. 80-89. Gainesville: University Press of Florida.

HAVE